

Bio : DJ/PRODUCER based in Brussels, Belgium that stands for a new wave of electronic music. Blending sounds together from all parts of the world, creates this unique sound of brooding basslines, afro touch and deephouse vibes. His journey started in small local clubs in and around Antwerp where he quickly stood out for his ability to combine multiple genres, with exciting rhythmic elements. This mix of styles gave him a recognizable yet innovative style that made him one of the most requested DJ's in the city.

Over the years Bastin has expanded and refined his repertoire; while experimenting with different influences, he remains true to the essence of house music. This is translating into his productions as well. While his music producer career is still young, it does look very promising, already gaining the support of names like Bun Xapa, Desiree, Cincity and more.. This does taste like more and Bastin has no plans to stop. With his constant drive for innovation and determination, he will continue to rule the dance floors for many years to come.
